A man wearing a red t-shirt with the 'maconer' logo and blue jeans is standing in front of a large, white and black JYOTI RDX 20 CNC machine. He is looking at the machine's control panel, which features a digital display and various buttons. The machine has 'RDX 20' written vertically on its side and the 'JYOTI' logo on the control unit. The setting is a workshop with other equipment and a fan visible in the background.

A large industrial workshop with a high ceiling and concrete pillars. Several workers wearing red t-shirts with the 'mappner' logo and headscarves are seated at workstations. They are operating large industrial machines, possibly for casting or molding. The floor is concrete, and the overall environment is industrial and busy.
